A large, multi-tiered pyramid of champagne glasses is the central focus of the image. The glasses are arranged in a dense, symmetrical stack, with the top tier consisting of a single glass and the base being a wide, circular arrangement of many more glasses. Each glass is filled with a light-colored, bubbly liquid, likely champagne or sparkling wine, and garnished with a single red cherry on a small wooden skewer. The background is a solid, dark grey or black, which makes the clear glass and the vibrant red cherries stand out. The lighting is soft and directional, coming from the side to create highlights on the rims of the glasses and the bubbles in the liquid. In the upper right quadrant, there is a handwritten-style text in a reddish-pink color that reads "The possibilities are endless...".
